Terms of Service

Effective November 5, 2026

> The key point: macry is an information and analytics service, not a broker or an investment adviser. Signals and levels are generated automatically and can be wrong; you make your own trading decisions and are responsible for them.

1. General provisions

1.1. These Terms govern the use of the macry service on the website https://macry.org, in the service's Telegram bot and through its other interfaces (the “Service”). The parties are the administration of the Service (the “Administration”, “we”, “us”) and any person who uses the Service (the “User”, “you”).

1.2. By signing up or otherwise using the Service you accept these Terms in full. If you do not agree, please do not use the Service.

1.3. The Privacy Policy and, for paid features, the Public Offer and the Payment and Refund Terms form an integral part of these Terms.

1.4. The Service may be used by persons over 18 with full legal capacity, provided that the law of the country where they are located does not prohibit the use of such services and of cryptocurrencies. Complying with local restrictions is the User's responsibility.

2. What the Service is

2.1. The Service is an analytics platform for the crypto futures market: market data from Bybit and Binance (USDT perpetual contracts), automatic signals about sharp moves in price, open interest and volume, strong levels, a liquidation map, charts with drawing tools, notifications on the website, in the browser and in Telegram, a trading journal and other features.

2.2. The free plan includes the core features, with signals delivered after a delay. A Pro subscription unlocks signals without delay and the additional features listed on the pricing page. The set of features may change as the Service evolves.

2.3. The Service is not a broker, an exchange, an investment adviser or an asset manager: it does not accept or hold funds for trading, does not execute trades and does not provide access to trading.

3. Service information is not investment advice

3.1. All information provided by the Service — signals, levels, statistics, past signal results and other materials — is for information purposes only and is not personal investment advice, an offer or a recommendation to buy or sell any asset.

3.2. Signals and levels are generated automatically by algorithms from market data and may be wrong, late or fail to play out. Past signal results do not guarantee similar results in the future.

3.3. Trading cryptocurrencies and derivatives, especially with leverage, carries a high risk, up to the loss of all funds invested. You make trading decisions on your own and are responsible for them.

3.4. Market data comes from third parties (exchanges) and may be incomplete, delayed or inaccurate. We are not responsible for its content or for the operation of exchanges.

4. Sign-up and account

4.1. To sign up you need a valid email address and a password; the address must be confirmed.

4.2. You agree to use your own valid email address, keep your password secret and not transfer your account to anyone else. We recommend turning on two-factor authentication.

4.3. Actions performed from your account are deemed to be performed by you until you notify us of unauthorised access.

4.4. One person — one account. Creating additional accounts to obtain a trial, promo codes, refunds or partner earnings again is prohibited.

5. Acceptable use

You must not:

- use the Service in breach of the law or the rights of others;
- resell, publish or otherwise pass on signals and other Service data to third parties for commercial purposes without our written consent;
- collect data automatically (parsing, scraping), create excessive load, or bypass the free plan delay, access restrictions and other technical limits;
- attempt unauthorised access, exploit vulnerabilities or distribute malicious code. If you find a vulnerability, please report it through support — we appreciate such reports;
- send spam, including spam with partner links, or send abusive content to support;
- impersonate the Administration or other persons.

6. Subscription, trial and promo codes

6.1. Paid features are provided under the Public Offer. The subscription does not renew automatically: you are charged only when you pay an invoice yourself.

6.2. A Pro trial, when offered, is free and available once per account; when it ends, the account returns to the free plan.

6.3. Promo codes give a discount or Pro days on the terms stated when they are issued and cannot be exchanged for money.

7. Partner program

7.1. Users can invite new users with a personal link (Account → “Partners”). For every payment made by an invited user, the partner receives a reward at the percentage shown in the account at the time of the payment.

7.2. An invited user is assigned to the partner if they sign up within 30 days after following the link. Inviting yourself is not allowed.

7.3. Rewards are paid out manually in USDT to the address the partner entered in the account. The partner is responsible for the correct address and network; a transfer to a wrong address cannot be returned.

7.4. If an invited user's payment is refunded, the reward for it is cancelled; an amount already paid out may be offset against the next payout.

7.5. If we see signs of abuse (self-invitation, fake sign-ups, spam, fraudulent payments), we may cancel rewards and remove the user from the program.

7.6. We may change or end the program; rewards earned before the change are kept and paid out. Partners pay any taxes on their rewards themselves.

8. Trading journal and exchange connections

8.1. The journal uses a read-only exchange API key; the Service rejects keys with trading or withdrawal permissions.

8.2. You create the key yourself in your exchange account and are responsible for its permissions and safekeeping. You can delete the key at any time, both in the Service and on the exchange.

8.3. Journal calculations (positions, results, fees) are approximate and are not accounting or tax documents.

9. Notifications and the Telegram bot

Notifications are an auxiliary feature. They may be delayed or not delivered because of the browser, Telegram, email services or the network, so do not rely on them as your only source of information for trading decisions.

10. Intellectual property

10.1. The software, algorithms, design, texts and other materials of the Service belong to the Administration or are used by it lawfully. You are granted a limited, non-exclusive right to use the Service for personal purposes in accordance with these Terms.

10.2. Your content — chart drawings, comments, support requests — remains yours; you allow us to store and process it in order to provide the Service to you.

11. Availability and changes

11.1. The Service is provided “as is”. We strive for uninterrupted operation but do not guarantee it: maintenance, failures and restrictions imposed by exchanges and providers are possible.

11.2. We may change, add and remove features. If a change materially reduces Pro features you have already paid for, contact support and we will offer an equivalent replacement or compensation in subscription days.

12. Limitation of liability

12.1. We are not liable for losses, lost profits or other consequences of trading decisions made using the Service, or for the actions of exchanges, payment services, Telegram and other third parties.

12.2. In any case, our total liability to you is limited to the amount you paid for the subscription during the 3 months before the event giving rise to the claim.

12.3. The limitations in this section do not apply where mandatory provisions of applicable law prohibit them.

13. Suspension and termination

13.1. You may stop using the Service at any time and delete your account in your account settings (“Profile” → “Delete account”). The remaining paid days are not refunded: you can get your last payment back before deleting the account under the Public Offer. Signing up again with the same email does not entitle you to the trial or a refund again.

13.2. We may restrict access or block an account for a breach of these Terms, when required by law, or to protect the Service and other users. If an account is blocked for a breach, the paid period is not refunded.

13.3. If we shut down the Service or close an account through no fault of the User, we refund the cost of the unused paid period.

14. Changes to these Terms

14.1. We may change these Terms. A new version is published on the website and takes effect upon publication unless it states otherwise. We announce material changes in advance on the website or by email.

14.2. By continuing to use the Service after the changes take effect, you accept the new version.

15. Disputes

15.1. Disputes are resolved through negotiation. Before going to court, send a claim through support; we reply within 30 days.

15.2. If a dispute is not settled, it is heard by the court at the location of the Administration under the law of the country of its location, unless mandatory consumer protection rules of the User's country of residence provide otherwise.
